In a dimly lit room, the boy sits engrossed in his video game, his eyes fixed on the screen.

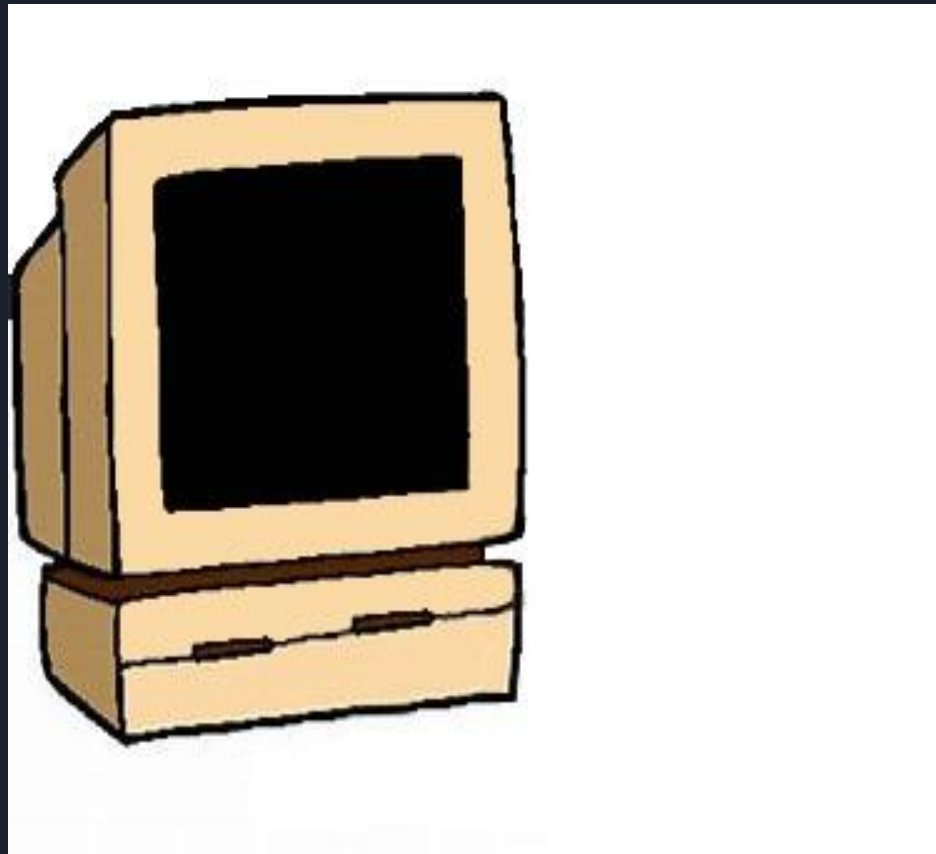

Suddenly, a surge of electricity crackles and he finds himself inexplicably pulled into the digital realm.

The room transforms into a virtual landscape as he becomes one with the game, his surroundings coming alive. The screen fades to black leaving only the echoing sound of his startled gasp. Now, armed with his controller he must navigate this realm to find a way back , his adrenaline surging as reality blurs with fantasy.
